

Through Rose Colored Glasses

Donna Deegan was only months from realizing her dream of launching the nations first national breast cancer marathon, when she was diagnosed with the disease for the third time. While still committed to the race, Deegan began searching for answers beyond the conventional. As she opened one door, it led to the next. What started as a quest for a cure became a physical and spiritual rebirth. Deegan takes us along on her journey with great candor and humor. From the creation of a race that now draws thousands from all over the country and the world, to her very personal marathon from fear to love. This book is a must read for anyone who has ever struggled to overcome fear. Its simple yet powerful message contains the secret of life itself.
