

Walking in Penwith (Pocket Cornwall)

David Chapman picks his favourite walks in his favourite area of Cornwall. These walks have been chosen to reflect the diverse nature of the district, so you will be taken to the most beautiful places as well as the most interesting ones. Plenty of information is given about the route of each walk, and the author shares his knowledge of the natural history that can be seen, as well as giving information about the history and geology along the way. The walks are varied in length; all offer suitable places to sit and relax over lunch, whether at an inn, a cafe, or simply a seat with a view! Each walk is given a rating for its beauty, level of difficulty, wildlife, historical interest and general interest. Distances, timings and parking places are detailed, so that you can make appropriate choices. The walks are illustrated with Davids superb photographs, so not only will this book introduce you to new parts of Penwith, it will also be a souvenir of the walk.
